

FRESHERS (NOTTINGHAM) COMP 2023 DRY SERC

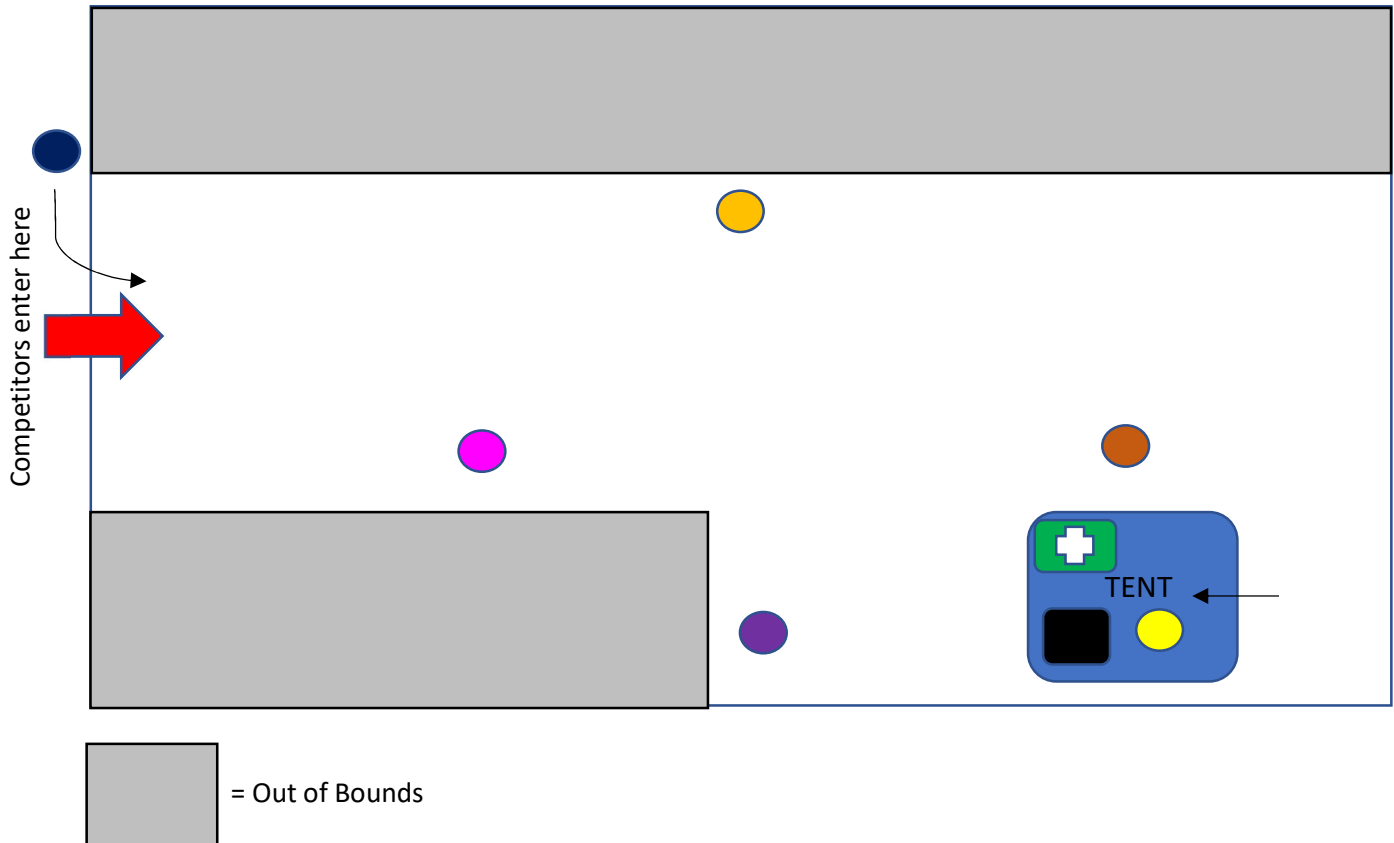

Writer: Alastair Sanders (Birmingham)

Written and Audible (there will be a voice recording to be played to competitors as well as written) Brief: South Africa Ranger 2 calling! Hey trainee rangers, it is a lovely day for your bush safari here in Kruger National Park! 38 degrees Celsius and not a cloud in the sky, be careful out there!

Now, Sodwana Bay camp has reported an incident involving a big cat, possibly a lion! They said it has now left and should not return, but there are some injured. Could you swing by there and check everything is ok? Thanks, South Africa Ranger 2 out!

Time: 2 minutes, starts on referee's whistle, background safari music will be playing as the team enters the SERC

Comms: Simulated on radio

All bounds will be marked using hazard tape!

Key:

- GREEN SQUARE with WHITE CROSS = First aid kit
- RED ARROW = Entry point for teams
- BLUE SQUARE = Camping tent
- BLACK SQUARE = Bag containing water, Coca-Cola and sugary sweets

Each casualty will be provided with a set of likely questions that competitors may ask them!

 ORANGE = Annabelle/Andy (Panicking + Potential Shock)

- Will present to competitors as worried and erratic, moving towards the captain, seeking attention from competitors
- Will require firm instructions from competitors even when in shock
- If not dealt with properly (sat down, firm instructions, shock position) for 45 seconds, the casualty will develop onset symptoms of shock and will present to competitors as still, spaced out and unresponsive
- Has phone on them (with no signal – marked clearly on phone and casualty will also exclaim this) – casualty will attempt to take photos/selfies with other casualties and competitors
- Has no prior medical conditions
- “Do you have a phone or communication device?” – Yes, but it does not have any signal out here; it’s really annoying!
- “Do you know anyone here?” – Yes, I know BROWN
- “Can you sit down for me?” – Why? I am trying to help!
- “Are you very hot?” – No

 PURPLE = Sue/Simon (Leg Bleed)

- Will present to competitors as staggering and struggling to stand with blood down their left leg, originating from their hamstring area
- Was attacked by the lion and suffered a bite and scratches to their leg
- Knows BROWN is missing, will explain that they went back to the tent to get some food as they are diabetic and had not eaten since yesterday (competitors should deduce BROWN is hypoglycaemic)
- Has no prior medical conditions
- “Can you put pressure on your leg?” – I think so, is that lion coming back?
- “Is anyone missing?” – Yes, I haven’t seen BROWN for ages, last time I saw them they were on their way back to the tent!
- “Does BROWN have any medical conditions?” Yes, they have diabetes
- “When did BROWN last eat?” – Yesterday afternoon

 BROWN = Patsy/Patrick (UCNB + Diabetic – Hypo)

- Will present to competitors as human laying on floor, face down and unresponsive
- When roll over and check for breathing has been conducted, there will be no breathing as casualty is UCNB
- Human will be subbed out for Adult CPR Manikin (30 2 handed chest compressions, 2 breaths)
- Had not eaten since yesterday evening, went back to tent to join YELLOW and get sugary food/drink, collapsed and went unconscious on way to tent
- Has diabetes – reason for going unconscious is linked
- No Questions

 YELLOW = Mary/Michael (Asthma)

- Will present to competitors as in tent and struggling to breathe (flushed, cannot catch breath) and clutching throat

- Will need assistance moving if competitor wants to move casualty before and/or after treatment
- Asthma attack was caused by lion attack – it is normally triggered by anxious or frightening situations so it is normal cause of asthma attack
- If given wrong inhaler, casualty will not improve
- Has no other medical conditions
- “Are you struggling to breathe?” – Yes nodding
- “Where is your inhaler?” – points out of tent Main... Ranger... has... it
- “Do you have any other medical conditions?” – (If treated) No I don’t, just asthma
- “Do you know anyone here?” – I know BROWN, where are they?

 PINK = Betty/Bertie (Broken Arm + Asthmatic – not suffering)

- Will present to competitors as clutching arm and moaning in pain
- Fell while fleeing from lion and broke their arm in the fall
- Knows NAVY BLUE is in charge and walked off; when asked, will indicate that they walked off in the direction the competitors arrived in
- Also has asthma (and has inhaler on them) but is/will not suffer from it
- “Can you keep it in a comfortable position?” – I can try but please help me, that lion was so scary!
- “Is anyone missing?” – Yes, the Main Ranger has just left us here! I am writing a bad review on Trip Advisor when I get home
- “Where did the Main Ranger go/was last seen?” – Over there points in direction
- “Do you have any medical conditions?” – Yes, I have asthma but I am fine

 NAVY BLUE = Wilma/Will (Main Ranger + Heat Stroke)

- Will follow competitors into the room (not immediately behind but a few paces behind), will present as dazed, flushed and fanning self
- Will not try to get competitors’ attention, will stand by entrance to SERC until otherwise
- Will hand over radio willingly, yet does not have first aid kit – can advise where the first aid kit is
- Will conduct bad first aid treatments if asked to do first aid (was trained last week if asked)
- Has no prior medical conditions
- “Are you in charge here?” – Yes, I am this group’s Main Ranger
- “Do you know where there is a phone/communication device?” – I have a radio that should work!
- “Do you know where there is a first aid kit?” – There should be one in the tent!
- “Are you first aid trained?” – Yes of course I am
- “When were you last trained at first aid?” – About a week ago
- “Do you have YELLOW’s inhaler?” – Yes, they told me to keep hold of it
